

How to avoid getting the "Maximum cookies" error in Webadvisor:

When navigating through Webadvisor, certain links will open up in new tabs and/or new windows. Webadvisor sets a web "cookie" for every session (aka window or tab) you may have open. There is a maximum amount of cookies that Webadvisor will allow, so in order to stay below that amount, you must be sure to use the "close window" button at the bottom of the page. Closing the page otherwise will close the page, but will not end the session. Clicking the button will both close the page and close and session, which will prevent the "Maximum cookies" error from occurring.
